

Manufacturing – Hard Goods – Interior Design

We like it when we can market a business that's...

- Different but with huge opportunity to grow
- Has already mitigated business risk by having multiple threads to the business
- Makes a good income yet has only scratched the surface of potential
- Is for sale for genuine reasons

This business provides the owner a good income despite having to take on a full time Operations Manager due to the owner's genuine health issues. This opens up the opportunity for a new owner/operator who could run the business themselves, saving yourself staff costs, or keep the existing Management in place and you focus on acquiring more business.

Advantages...

- Owner/operated with minimal staff
- Could be a great bolt on to another similar business in aligned industry
- No additional capital expenditure required – further capacity exists in current operation
- Excellent reputation for service and quality of work
- Many untapped clients and new potential market sectors

to investigate

- Vendor will offer comprehensive training
- Opportunity to expand the business through digital marketing (currently little undertaken)

Differentiator...

Part of the business in a niche market with extraordinarily little local or international competition, the right person could take on the world and penetrate a lucrative export market.
