Auckland Accountancy Practice for Sale

If you are a driven accounting professional, looking for a chance to own your own practice in Auckland, then look no further. We are happy to present this exceptional opportunity to acquire a well-established accountancy and business advisory practice on the North Shore.

With the current owner pursuing a different career path, the practice is now available for an ambitious practitioner to expand their portfolio, or for someone just starting out to launch their own practice with a loyal and steady clientele. This is not a book of fees sale but rather an established going concern, including staff and systems, with a solid fee base generating $174k per annum to one working owner.

The practice employs two skilled contractors to assist with the workload, providing a seamless transition for the new owner. We expect this opportunity will attract interest from practitioners across Auckland who are seeking to expand their reach with a strategic acquisition on the North Shore.

If you are looking to establish or grow your own accountancy practice, this is a chance not to be missed. Let's talk today and discuss how we can make this opportunity work for you. Please note that the successful purchaser will be expected to
