Auckland Accounting Fees

As our sole trader and chartered accountant client approaches retirement after three decades of service, a strategic decision has been made to embark on a downsizing journey. We are pleased to present this block of fees to the market.

The business currently boasts a dedicated team of 4, most of whom have been part of its fabric for a significant duration. With this established team, the transition to new ownership is poised to be seamless. Notably, the vendor is open to assisting as needed, ensuring a supportive handover process.

This proposition holds immense potential for practitioners seeking to expand their existing operations. The opportunity to incorporate additional fees into an established practice is both lucrative and promising. Operating within a virtual framework, the business efficiently operates with the vendor and staff working remotely from their individual homes. This forward-looking approach positions the business for a successful handover and continued prosperity under new ownership.

If you are a practitioner seeking growth or an entrepreneur ready to take the reins, this offering is an invitation to step into
